Q1. Read the stanza carefully:

The people walk upon their heads,
 The sea is made of sand,
 The children go to school by night,
 In Topsy- turvy Land.
 The front-door step is at the back,
 You're walking when you stand,
 You wear your hat upon your feet,
 In Topsy –turvy Land.
 And buses on the sea you'll meet,
 While pleasure boats are planned,
 To travel up and down the streets
 Of Topsy-turvy Land.
 You pay for what you never get ,
 I think it must be grand,
 For when you go you're coming back,
 In Topsy-turvy Land.

Q2. Read the passage carefully:

Even today in the materialistic world, it is honesty, sincerity and integrity which paves (cover) the way for future success and pays much in the long run. Though for the time being dishonesty, unfairness and black-marketing lead to huge profits yet after some time the evils recoil (digust) upon the doer(a person who do something). So character is the solid basis of success even in trade and commerce. Honest and fair dealings in business always lead to contentment, success and prosperity. In the foreign countries great stress is laid on the dictum of honesty and as such they have made remarkable progress in the field of trade and commerce. Unfortunately due to slavery, we have lost our morale and as such try to adopt dishonest dealers and as such fail to prosper in business. We never think the good of our customers and as such fail to prosper in business. Now in our free country, it is our pious duty to maintain high standard of morality and avoid dishonesty and unfair means to achieve a nobler aim. A successful businessmen should have a high code of morals and always strive for fairness and goodness, nobility and honesty. He should not cheat his customers by absurd things .His dealings should be frank, straight forward and honest.
